THE

SOUTH-CAROLINA GAZETTE;

Containing the freſheſt Advices, Foreign and Domeſtick.

Monday, January 31*ſt*, 1743. [Numb. 462]

LONDON, November 18.

On Tueſday the 16th His Majeſty made the following moſt gracious Speech to both Houſes of Parliament.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

THE preſent important Conjuncture of Affairs will, I am perſuaded, be thought a ſufficient Reaſon for calling you thus early together.

I have, in purſuance of the repeated Advice of my Parliament, taken ſuch a Part as appeared to me conducive to the Support of the Houſe of Auſtria, and to the reſtoring and ſecuring of the Balance of Power. In this View I ordered a conſiderable Body of Troops to be ſent from hence into Flanders; and, at the Cloſe of the laſt Seſſion, I foreſaw, and pointed out to you, that it might be incumbent upon Me to enter into further Meaſures for the ſame great and deſirable Ends. The Augmentation of Our Strength in the Low Countries became a neceſſary Step; for which Purpoſe I ſent, in concert with My Allies, Sixteen of My Electoral Troops thither, with the Heſſians in the Britiſh Pay, in order to form ſuch a Force, in Conjunction with the Auſtrian Troops, as might be of Service to the Common Cauſe in all Events; and I doubt not, but I ſhall have your Aſſiſtance in the Support of theſe neceſſary Meaſures.

The Magnanimity and Firmneſs of the Queen of Hungary, notwithſtanding ſo many numerous Armies ſent againſt Her; the reſolute Conduct of the King of Sardinia, and His ſtrict Adherence to His Engagements, though attack'd in His own Dominions; the Stop which has been hitherto put to the Ambitious Deſigns of the Court of Spain in Italy (to which the Operations of My Fleet in the Mediterranean have ſo viſibly contributed) the Change of Affairs in the North, which appeared by the Publick Requiſition made by Sweden, of My good Offices, for procuring a Peace between Ruſſia and that Crown; and the Defenſive Alliances agreed upon, not only between Me and the Czarina, but alſo between Me and the King of Pruſſia, are Events, which could not have been expected, if Great-Britain had not ſhewn a ſeaſonable Spirit and Vigour in the Defence and Aſſiſtance of its ancient Allies; and in the Maintenance of the Liberties of Europe, as well as of its own true and laſting Intereſt.

Gentlemen of the Houſe of Commons,

I have ordered the proper Eſtimates for the Service of the enſuing Year to be prepared, and laid before you; and alſo an Account of the Expence of thoſe particular Services, which I have already mentioned, and which you will find to have been concerted in as frugal a Manner as the Nature of them would admit. I am perſuaded, that you will readily grant me ſuch Supplies, as ſhall be found neceſſary for the Security and Welfare of the Nation, requiſite for the Support of the common Cauſe, and adequate to the preſent Emergency.

My Lords and Gentlemen,

The Importance of your Deliberations at this Time is ſo evident, that I will ſay nothing to enforce it. The Honour and Intereſt of my Crown and Kingdoms, the Succeſs of the War, wherein I am engaged againſt Spain, and the Re-eſtabliſhment of the Balance and Tranquility of Europe, will greatly depend on the Prudence and Vigour of your Reſolutions. Let it be your Care to avoid every Thing that may either delay or weaken them; and to convince the World, that you are determined to make a right Uſe of the preſent Opportunity.

The humble Addreſs of the Right Honourable the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, preſented to His Majeſty on Wedneſday the 17th of November.

Die Martis, 16 Novembris, 1742.

Moſt gracious Sovereign,

WE, your Majeſty's moſt dutiful and loyal Subjects, the Lords Spiritual and Temporal in Parliament aſſembled, beg Leave to return your Majeſty our ſincere and humble Thanks for your moſt gracious Speech from the Throne.

The Support of the Houſe of Auſtria, and the reſtoring and ſecuring the Balance of Power, are of ſo great Moment, as well to the eſſential Intereſts of this Nation in particular, as to the Liberties of Europe in general, that we eſteem it our particular Felicity, in this critical and dangerous Conjuncture, to have a Prince upon the Throne, who not only ſhews the moſt gracious Regard to the Advice of his Parliament upon this important Subject, but takes all Opportunities to confirm and animate them in the Purſuit of it. We acknowledge, with Hearts full of Gratitude, your Majeſty's Royal Wiſdom and effectual Care in carrying on this great Work, which has appeared in nothing more than in ſending ſo conſiderable a Body of your Forces into the Low Countries, and in ſtrengthening them afterwards with your Electoral Troops, and the Heſſians in the Britiſh Pay. By this Step, ſo honourable to your Majeſty, and ſo advantageous to your Allies, your Majeſty has demonſtrated, that you prefer this glorious Cauſe to all other Conſiderations; and has formed ſuch an Army, as may at once defend and encourage thoſe Powers who are well intentioned, and give a real Aſſiſtance to the Queen of Hungary: And we beg Leave to aſſure your Majeſty of our chearful and zealous Concurrence and Support in this neceſſary Meaſure.

The good Effects, which the Vigour exerted by Great-Britain, under your Majeſty's Authority and Influence, in aſſiſting its antient Allies, and maintaining the Liberties of Europe, hath already had upon the Affairs of the Queen of Hungary, upon the Conduct of ſeveral Powers, and the State of Europe in general, are viſible to all the World. It is with the utmoſt Satisfaction we obſerve them; and rely on your Majeſty's known Care and Attention to the Publick Welfare, to purſue and improve them; and we cannot but entertain well grounded Hopes, that ſo great an Example, and a ſteady Perſeverance in the ſame Meaſures will inſpire the like Spirit and Reſolution into other Powers, equally engaged by Treaties and common Intereſt, to take the like Part.

Your Majeſty has laid before us ſo juſt a Repreſentation of the Importance of our Deliberations at this Time, as cannot fail to make an Impreſſion upon all true Lovers of their Country, equal to the Dignity and Weight of it. Permit us on our Parts, to give your Majeſty the ſtrongeſt Aſſurances that we have the Honour and Safety of your Majeſty; the true Intereſt and Proſperity of your Kingdoms; the Security and Advancement of their Commerce; the Succeſs of the War againſt Spain, and the Re-eſtabliſhment of the Balance and Tranquility of Europe, entirely at Heart. Theſe ſhall be the conſtant Objects of our Proceedings and Reſolutions, from which we will never depart, being firmly determined to ſupport your Majeſty in all juſt and neceſſary Meaſures for attaining thoſe great and deſirable Ends, and to ſtand by and defend your Majeſty, and your Government againſt all your Enemies.

To which Addreſs his Majeſty was pleaſed to make the following moſt gracious Anſwer.

My Lords,

THE Duty and Affection, which you expreſs in this Addreſs, for my Perſon and Government, are accompanied with ſo great Zeal for the common Cauſe, and the true Interest of my Kingdoms, as gives me the utmost Satisfaction. I thank you heartily for it; and doubt not, but your vigorous Support, so early and unanimously given, will have the best Effects, both at Home and Abroad.

London, [in England] October 19.

Three Men of War, one of Eighty, and two of Seventy Guns, are ordered to sail forthwith to join Admiral Mathews.

Letters from Dunkirk bring Advice, that they have erected Beacons along the Coast from that Port as far as Calais; that Marshal Noailles, with the Duke de Chartres, and the other Princes that design to make the Campaign, are expected there every Day; and that the French and Swiss Regiments of Guards, the first Troop of Mousquetaires, and some other Troops, that were at Valenciennes, are gone to encamp at Aire.

London, October 23. A large Spanish Privateer was taken by the Dolphin Man of War, the Day after she sail'd from Lisbon, and on Saturday last she arrived in the River.

Abo, the Capital of Finland, having submitted to the Czarina immediately on the Retreat of the Swedish Garrison from thence, almost the Whole of that Dutchy is now in the Hands of the Russians, and this is at a less Expence of Blood than the smallest Fortress therein must have cost them, had the Swedes thought fit to make an obstinate Resistance.

Yesterday the agreeable News came, that his Majesty's Ship the Leopard, the Lord Forrester Commander, having on Board a very large Sum of Money for the Queen of Hungary, was safely arrived at Trieste.

This Morning came Advice, that the Pulteney Privateer, that lately sail'd from Dublin, has taken two Barco-Longos; one was carried to Gibraltar, and the other with Bale Goods from Cadiz was ransom'd for 5500 Dollars, and the Master is detain'd on board as Security for the Money, 'till the same is paid at Faro.

October 26. A Squadron of Men of War, which is to consist of three second Rate, six third Rate, two fourth Rate, and three fifth Rate Ships, together with two Fireships, are ordered to rendezvous at Spithead with all Expedition, and to be supplied with every Thing necessary for their putting to Sea.

London, November 2. Letters from Lisbon mention, that the Drake Man of War being on a Cruize near Cadiz, fell in with three Spanish Privateers of great Force, with whom she engaged 'till ready to sink: In the Interim came up the Pulteney Galley, Capt. Purcell, an English Privateer, who attack'd the Spaniards, and gave the Drake an Opportunity to withdraw. Capt Purcell seeing himself overpowered, hoisted the Bloody Flag, as a Signal that he would not give or receive any Quarter, which so much frighten'd the Dons that they sheer'd off towards Cadiz.

London, December 2. We hear from Copenhagen, that his Danish Majesty has suddenly given Orders for forming Three Camps, each between 8 and 10,000 Men, one in Norway, one in Zealand, and one in Holstein. His Majesty is likewise fitting out a powerful Fleet, for which Reason he has thought proper to lay an Embargo. As all these quick Measures have been taken immediately after signing a Treaty of Commerce with France, the People are afraid the Devil of Discord will transfer Himself thither from Sweden.

CHARLES-TOWN, January 31.

A Letter from Wilmington in North-Carolina dated the 10th Instant intimates, that the Forces under Gen. Wentworth are gone Home, and that in those Parts, they are in great dread (from what Information they have had) that the Garrisons of Carthagena, Porto Rico, St. Yago on Cuba, Havanna and St. Augustine will now be employ'd to man Privateers to cruize our Trade, which they doubt not are now fitting out in great Abundance.

On Friday Morning all the Spanish Prisoners in this Town were sent on board His Majesty's Ship the Rye, in Rebellion Road, in order, as we hear, to be exchanged for as many English, at Augustine or Havanna.

The Surrey Man of War, commanded by Captain Bladwell, arrived here the same Day from Cape Fear.

We hear, that in the Engagement between Capt. Wentworth and two Porto Rico Privateers, as mentioned in our last, Wentworth had one Man kill'd, and his Lieut. (Capt. Axon late Commander of the Philadelphia Privateer) wounded.

Yesterday arrived here Capt. Cox from Providence, who brings us the following Account, That the 95,000 Pieces of Eight for the Ransom of the Regifter-Ship taken some Time ago by Capt. Sibbald, was reposed in the Hands of his Excellency Governor Tinker, to be by him kept until the said Regifter Ship should be deliver'd off the Havanna, in Sight of the Morr Castle; That the two Philadelphia Privateers were to sail in a few Days to convoy her thither, and were (according to Agreement) to have four Days Protection to return; That the Companies of those two Privateers, on having search'd the abovesaid Ship, had found besides what was ransom'd, Goods to the Value of 34,000 Pieces of Eight, which they have sold at Providence. The said Capt. Cox informs us, that Advice has been received at Providence, of a large Man of War Snow and two Galleys being sail'd on a Cruize from the Havanna, on Purpose to take the said Privateers when they shall return from off that Place to Providence.

Charles-Town, January 26.

Mr. Timothy,

BEING credibly inform'd that Capt. Hardy denies the Reply he made me, as published in the Gazette of the 17th Instant; which obliges me again, in Vindication of my own Character, to declare in this publick Manner, that I have made an Affidavit of the Truth thereof, before HENRY GIBBES, Esq; one of his Majesty's Justices of BERKLEY County.

Witness my Hand,
SAMUEL HALLIN.
